

The Masonic Temple

Special Event Information

Capacities

Masonic Temple Theatre	4,404	Chapel	500
Scottish Rite Cathedral	1,550	Colonnade	315
Drill Hall	1,144	Oak Room	188
Fountain Ballroom	1,080	Emblem	159
Crystal Ballroom	550	2 nd Floor Shrine	158

Masonic Temple

Dedicated on November 25, 1926, the Masonic Temple is the hidden gem of Detroit, designed by George D. Mason and proudly remains the largest Masonic Temple in North America. With over 1,000 rooms, this historic building is awed for its outstanding beauty and unparalleled architecture. It continues to serve for a variety of functions from theatrical performances to grand balls and numerous wedding ceremonies and receptions.

Scottish Rite Cathedral

This history cathedral, originally constructed for dramatizations of the Scottish Rite degrees, is a stunning setting with rich carvings in the woodwork and beautiful color most noted in the ceiling. A stunning lobby precludes the entrance to the Cathedral offering a variety of special event possibilities for special recognitions, awards or performances.

Fountain Ballroom

This circular ballroom is a unique setting for special events allowing expansive space and loading area for product features and special events. With two brightly lit pillars gracing the center of the ballroom, light aluminates the ceiling creating a fountain-like effect. The Fountain Ballroom offers very versatile event possibilities.

Crystal Ballroom

With its original hardwood floors and crystal chandeliers dating back to the 1920s, the Crystal Ballroom offers a setting both rich in history and stunning from every facet. The Ballroom offers an elegant and memorable setting and can accommodate a staged area in addition to a dance floor. Perfect for any occasion with its Italian décor, the Crystal Ballroom has be touted as one of the most magnificent ballrooms in America.

More Information

With over 1,000 rooms the Masonic Temple can accommodate your group for any special event or occasion. Smaller more intimate settings offer great space for corporate meetings or trainings with ample break-out rooms available. Hospitality can be designed to accommodate your needs in an elegant fashion and within your budget restraints.

To further discuss the countless possibilities at the Masonic Temple, contact:

Erin Mazurek, Corporate Event Sales Manager
(313) 471-7593 or erin.mazurek@olyent.com

